

RECRUITING MORE TALENT

Planning, Team Leader – Christchurch

Interested in joining a winning team of 45,000 people, delivering some of the most influential projects in New Zealand and in over 100 countries worldwide?

Leading the growth of our planning business in Christchurch, you will work with AECOM's key players in environmental engineering, transportation and energy to build on our success throughout the South Island and across New Zealand. In this leadership role, you will also provide mentoring, professional development and drive recruitment initiatives to develop Christchurch's planning team.

This takes a proven track record running a successful planning team and over 10 years experience in planning and resource management. You will also have strong leadership and business development skills, and a track record in building and maintaining excellent local client relationships.
