Urban + Environmental Planning

Environmental planning specialists, Barker & Associates has a reputation as a market leader in statutory planning. As recipients of the Nancy Northcroft 'Supreme' Planning Award 2009 we take an innovative and collaborative approach to our broad range of policy and consent projects which range from small developments through to major urban growth projects.

Currently we have a role for a planning assistant to work with our Auckland based planning team, which is a great opportunity for you to 'learn the ropes' before embarking on your planning career.

Planning Assistant

We are looking for an enthusiastic person and team player with a professional focus who is happy to assist with day-to-day tasks within the office in a supporting role for the planning team. At the same time you will have the opportunity to learn what private sector planning is all about and to gain an understanding of the diverse nature of policy and consent planning.

We need a team member who is –

- Enthusiastic, energized and committed to working within a team environment
- Organised and able to prioritise and manage tasks
- Has an eye for detail and committed to achieving high professional standards, even when undertaking basic tasks
- Highly motivated to pursue a long-term career as a planner and to achieve full membership of the New Zealand Planning Institute
- Confident in suggesting new ideas and more efficient work techniques
- Articulated and clear written and oral skills
- Has excellent computer skills

If you have the above attributes and are keen to become part of a fun, professional planning team, give us a call.
