George Patena
Project Coordinator

Senior Policy Planner (City Planning)

Join a team of talented, passionate professionals who are leading the charge on significant projects affecting the future of our City. The Planning and Strategic Transport unit is at the forefront of managing the rapid and exciting transformation of the City so that Christchurch in the future is a sustainable and resilient city, prepared for the challenges that lie ahead.

The team are strategic thinkers, outcomes focused and highly collaborative and now need someone like-minded to join them in the role of Senior Policy Planner. This is a role with a twist as whilst you'll be involved in a wide range of strategic planning projects, you'll focus on the natural environment, climate change and hazards along with rural and urban interface matters.

Within the unit, you will be part of the City Planning team which has responsibility for the Christchurch District Plan, including taking the lead on plan changes made under the Resource Management Act or arising from the Greater Christchurch Regeneration Act 2016. The team also has on going commitments working with our sub-regional partners on a range of shared issues including land use and infrastructure integration and growth management.

We are looking for a technical guru with a demonstrable knack for leadership and relationship engagement. You will play a vital role coaching and mentoring team members and gain satisfaction from helping others achieve their goals.

Being a natural leader, your experience steering projects and technical capabilities will ensure things run smoothly. You'll be supporting the wider team and advising other Council staff on all aspects of the District Plan. Working closely alongside key stakeholders and the wider community will ensure you identify and advise on emerging challenges and opportunities in the City.

You'll ideally have a background in policy planning and be able to adapt yourself to local government complexities. You'll have an accredited planning qualification, experience or an ability to present expert planning evidence to the Environment Court, and strong practical knowledge of the Resource Management Act and the Local Government Act. An additional qualification in environmental science or similar would be well received.

If you have a desire to be leading some of the City's most important strategic issues and be part of a dedicated, future focussed team - apply now!
