

Development Engineer

Resource Consents Team

Do you want to live in an amazing location, work in an amazing job and make a real and positive difference?

We are Kaipara District Council. We plan to create something special for our district, something that will make Kaipara a place where it's easy to live and fun to work and play.

Kaipara District is rapidly growing and changing! A land development and building boom has triggered significantly increased and complex consenting activity and we are looking for a seasoned Development Engineer to provide engineering advice, support and services.

Some of your key responsibilities in this role will be:

- Review and reporting on land use and subdivision proposals, including field work and inspections
- Assessing development proposals against the District Plan engineering provisions and the Council engineering standards
- Assess and approve, as required, engineering design plans and documentation, and undertake post consent engineering monitoring, reviews and sign off
- Customer enquiries and interactions, including key stakeholder and industry groups
- Regularly meet with, and work in collaboration with, other key areas of Council such as waters, roading, parks and reserves

Not a local? We said that it's easy to live here, and we weren't wrong: an enviable lifestyle awaits you in a beautiful environment where rural charm meets coastal chic. Northland's renowned white sandy beaches, extensive native forests, rolling green pastures and laid back lifestyle make this an amazing place to live.

If you're the right person for the role, we are open to negotiate on a competitive salary and relocation assistance. Council also supports professional memberships, ongoing training and development opportunities, study assistance, a wellbeing programme, and a values based workplace. This makes for one career and lifestyle opportunity not to be missed.

An opportunity this special won't stick around for long. If this sounds good, don't delay - apply now.
