Team Leader Resource Consent

He angitūtanga: The opportunity

Our Resource Consents unit processes more than 17,000 consents annually and facilitates a wide range of development projects, from major subdivisions and nationally significant infrastructure projects to houses, apartment buildings and shopping centres. As a Team Leader, you will manage and lead a team of around 7 to 12 Planners. You'll be supporting your team in the processing of resource consents and providing advice on pre-application consenting strategies. You'll be coaching and motivating your team members to provide positive outcomes for the region. You will be involved in operational management and decision making, customer service, professional development and a range of organisational obligations.

He kōrero mōu: About you

Ideally, you'll bring with you at least two years' leadership experience, but you might be an ambitious Senior ready to take the next step up in your career. Naturally, you'll be able to demonstrate strong people leader capability, and have a knack for communicating with and motivating a range of personalities. You'll also have at least 8 years' experience in the planning/resource management field and a relevant tertiary degree. As you may need to use Council vehicles for this role, a valid NZ driver's license is preferred.

We have two positions available. Applications close Thursday 9th May 2019.

Principal Planner/RMA Specialist

He angitūtanga: The opportunity

We have an exciting opportunity for a Principal Planner or Resource Management Act specialist to join our Practice and Training team. The role provides technical specialist planning advice on resource management, collaboratively working across our Regulatory directorate to develop and maintain resource consents best practice and preparing and delivering training material. An essential part of your role will be to ensure that the Resource Consent staff have the professional and technical competence necessary to enable the team to meet the highest standards and customer service requirements. This role requires a flexible, dynamic person who will keep abreast of national legislation changes and, more importantly, be able to deploy these messages in a simple, easy to understand way to the consent planners. You will be responsible for updating practice guides so that information is easy to understand, and our processes are easy to follow.

He kōrero mōu: About you

You must have significant experience in the Resource Management Act and be an expert in the resource consenting process. You'll have experience in writing material – anything from guidance and practice notes, all the way through to training material. You'll also be comfortable in the facilitation of training of staff at all levels. You'll have a strong focus on customer-centric delivery and providing first-rate customer service, and be able to communicate clearly and effectively to different audiences using a wide range of methods. As this position will require you to occasionally travel around the region using Auckland Council vehicles, you must hold a valid and clean NZ driver's license.

We have two positions available, both based in Auckland Central.
