

Looking for great Consultants

Are you an experienced consultant / resource management planner looking to make your mark? Do you have the enthusiasm to drive the continuous development of a business that offers something different?

We are looking to expand our Auckland and Wellington presence and are seeking interest from talented Resource Management Consultants to join our established teams.

Mitchell Daysh is a specialist environmental consultancy with a presence in every region nationally. We provide specialist advice around complex planning and resource management issues and are involved in interesting projects of all scales for a range of dynamic clients. Our culture and the quality of our team sets us apart – we boast many of New Zealand's most respected, knowledgeable and innovative professionals and all our staff are encouraged to get involved and work closely on projects, forging long term partnerships with clients.

This is a fast paced, high productivity, deadline-based business so we are looking for someone who thrives in this kind of environment and will enjoy the challenges of this busy role. We offer a supportive and collaborative working environment

You will need to demonstrate the following skills:

- 3 - 10 years' + relevant experience within private practise, public sector or an inhouse planning role is preferable (however if you are good enough you are experienced enough, so while we are not looking for grads if you back yourself get in touch)
- Planning, Resource Management, Environmental Science or Law Qualification (post graduate level is preferred but not essential)
- Strong technical planning and resource consent capability within the RMA

To express an interest in this opportunity, send your resume and covering letter to Rebekah Jenkins on rebekah.jenkins@mitchelldaysh.co.nz or call for a confidential discussion on 021 470 098.
