WE ARE

Ahmed Mohamed

Risk Advisor, Corporate Services

Principal Advisor - Planning

We're in the midst of building the world's newest city and are looking for a Principal Advisor - Planning to join our in-house team of multidisciplinary experts to continue this important work.

In the Planning and Strategic Transport unit, we are proud of our role in leading the evolution of our City. We are at the forefront of strategising how we can make use of the opportunity that we have to create a vibrant and bustling hub for a greater community.

Having a focus on planning and policy, you will lead and participate in projects related to earthquake recovery and urban growth regeneration. Your project work will include a range from highly strategic through to specific district planning changes. You will be working closely with external and internal stakeholders so having the ability to develop and maintain a good rapport is imperative to successful working relationships. You'll take a collaborative approach and will be an expert when providing technical advice. With a keen eye for detail you'll be able to identify any emerging issues, scoping of projects and be able to ascertain resources to achieve project outcomes. Having an analytical mind will allow you to evaluate plans and policies around long term strategies.

To be successful in this role you will have a post graduate degree relevant to urban, rural and regional planning and will be a member of NZPI. In return we offer flexibility, a stable and fun working environment with work life balance!

You'll have a confident manner when communicating across other teams regarding your unit objectives - you'll also actively engage with relevant academic institutions to stay ahead of the game regarding international trends, and technology. Making a difference is what we are about so join us to have the opportunity to shape a city! Apply now!
