

Consultant (Planner) – Environment & Planning

Just imagine your future with us...At Aurecon we see the future through a very different lens. Do you?

Innovation, eminence and digital are at the heart of everything we do. Are you excited about the future?

Are you driven by the opportunity to work on some of the most challenging and complex projects around the world and to learn from the best? We are.

Diversity is at the core of everything we do. We work together to create a culture based on respect, trust and inclusiveness. Our differences are what fuel our creativity.

We embrace flexible working and are always open to discussing your individual needs so that you get to create your own experience with us.

What will you do?

We have opportunities for practitioners to assist in delivering city shaping projects and to help unlock further opportunities and create better community outcomes for New Zealand.

Based in either Auckland, Hamilton or Tauranga, you will be part of our NZ Environment and Planning team which has a strong presence in the infrastructure market. You will work across a diverse portfolio of projects ranging from some of New Zealand's largest infrastructure projects, including critical transportation infrastructure (business cases and statutory planning) through to urban development, housing and utility projects.

We know the work we do is vital in assisting our world's economic development and, it's the technical expertise and the depth of knowledge of our people that really sets us apart. Here are the key things you will do to 'bring ideas to life'.

- Be self-motivated and a future thinker
- Work as part of our NZ wide team delivering exciting projects
- Help us to develop our key client relationships through excellent communication skills
- Be a person with a social conscience aspiring to make a difference.

We know today's complex challenges can only be solved through bringing together diverse teams of people from across our business, so there will be opportunities for you to apply your skills and creativity to projects in other geographies and markets.

What can you bring to the team?

Firstly, you will share our genuine passion for re-imagining engineering and be someone that actively pursues continuous learning to help shape the future. You will be a planner with 3+ years' experience with a consulting or local government background. You will hold a planning (or related) degree and qualify for membership of the New Zealand Planning Institute.

Our Aurecon Attributes describe the types of people we bring together for clients. We don't expect you to have all eight of the attributes, but one that is unique to you. Finally, we value that each of our team members brings something different to Aurecon. We look for people who have had a broad range of experiences throughout their career and can demonstrate how they have worked as part of a team to bring ideas to life. Does that sound like you?

About us

We've re-imagined engineering. Aurecon is an engineering and infrastructure advisory company, but not as you know it!

For a start, our clients' ideas drive what we do. Drawing on our deep pool of expertise, we co-create innovative solutions with our clients to some of the world's most complex challenges. And through a range of unique creative processes and skills, we work to re-imagine, shape and design a better future.

We listen deeply and intently, which helps us see opportunities, possibilities and potential that others can't.

Think engineering. Think again.
