Resource Consents Planner

Are you...

- Looking for a new and exciting challenge?
- Looking for a workplace with great staff culture?
- Fun, friendly and enjoy having a laugh?

We are looking for a self-motivated team player to join our busy resource consents team undertaking a variety of work including resource consent processing and advising customers on resource management issues. This is a full time role based at our Te Aroha office.

This role provides a broad cross section of work in both land use and subdivision resource consents as well as the ability to become involved in complex resource management issues, as the district is home to many large rural based industries.

To be successful for this role you will need a relevant tertiary qualification, a good understanding of relevant legislation, excellent written and oral communication skills and a strong customer focus. Our ideal applicant will have previous resource consents experience and experience within a local government environment however graduates will also be considered.

So what can we offer you? A supportive team environment where you'll have plenty of learning opportunities, a career progression pathway and an awesome workplace where we strive to be friendly, flexible, innovative and to make a difference in our communities.
