

Seeking a new challenge? We're hiring.

Resource Planner Parks/ Kaihanga Mahere Rawa (Ngā Pāka)

Porirua is a dynamic city experiencing a massive phase of growth. There are many exciting projects in the pipeline and we are looking for a dynamic person to join our Parks Resource Planning team. You will be able to jump in and work with our development community to ensure that our future open spaces meet the needs of a growing City.

To be successful in the role you need to show us you can:

- review and provide expert advice on resource consents
- work with developers to ensure that the open space needs of the City are provided for in new development areas
- prepare resource consent applications for Parks projects
- establish and maintain working relationships across the business and provide advice and guidance on relevant expert matters.

We are seeking someone to share our passion for our open spaces to ensure that the effects on reserves from development are mitigated appropriately and someone can contribute to the management of open spaces and reserve planning. You must have experience with either processing resource consents or the preparation of subdivision consents and a knowledge of the Reserves Act would also be an advantage.

You'll need to show us that you have:

- three to five years experience in planning, parks and recreation management or resource management
- eligibility for membership of the New Zealand Planning Institute
- well developed analytical, conceptual thinking and problem-solving abilities
- excellent research and report writing skills
- a full New Zealand driver's licence.

All about Porirua City

Our city is changing and we need skilled people to help make that happen. Working for Porirua City is an opportunity for you to make a real difference in the community. You'll be welcomed into a team that's collaborative, values input and empowers you to make things happen. To top it off, the harbour and bush are at your doorstep - it's the perfect place to work.
