

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Consents Manager

Waikato or North Island

ROLE INFO

This role is a permanent full-time role. Utilise your RMA consenting and planning experience to:

- Work on the front line of Fonterra delivering our sustainability strategy
- Enjoy a diverse & dynamic role supporting the consent portfolio for manufacturing sites throughout New Zealand.

The Role, reporting to the National Consents Manager, will be key in ensuring all manufacturing site activities remain lawfully established through the procurement of resource consents.

Working closely with site managers and the capital projects team, the role requires the ability to develop forward thinking, cost-effective strategies to deliver on direction and commitments required for future consents.

Ideally you will be based in Waikato, Auckland, or Wellington. This role will require regular travel throughout NZ.

Skills and Experience

You will be degree qualified in Planning, Resource Management or a related discipline. A member of the New Zealand Planning Institute would also be an advantage.

You will ideally have 5+ years' consenting experience as well as a thorough knowledge of the Resource Management Act and consenting processes. An ability to review environmental, technical reports and propose clear, robust consent strategies is important.

You will have sound project management experience and be well versed in managing multiple resource consent applications and their associated work streams, time lines and budgets.

You will be an excellent communicator who is comfortable working across a diverse internal and external stakeholder group and able to build effective, influential relationships.

Why Apply?

This is a unique opportunity offering a diverse workload to enable your career to expand within New Zealand's largest co-operative.

Our Story

As New Zealand's largest business, and a world-leading dairy exporter, Fonterra's high-quality dairy ingredients and branded dairy products are consumed in over 100 countries around the globe.
