We are on the hunt for talented Resource Consent Planners to be part of the largest and increasingly busy Resource Consents Department in Australasia.

We are looking for a variety of experience levels, from recently graduated urban planners to experienced intermediate and senior urban planners.

You will get plenty of opportunities to develop your planning skills working on a variety of projects including comprehensive residential and commercial development urban expansion and regeneration, or sensitive rural and coastal development.

The roles are based across the region in our resource consenting hubs, North-West, Central & South Auckland areas with flexible working options.
