

There's something special about this place

Dunedin is an amazing place to live and work, and if you were to ask anyone living here, they'll tell you that there's something indescribably special about our city. It's small enough to feel like you're part of a community, but big enough to ensure that there's always something going on. From the great outdoors to arts, culture and education, all within 10 minutes of the city centre. Dunedin has so much to offer, so why not come and feel just how special it is?

PLANNER

We have the opportunity for a planner to join our Resource Consents team. You would work within a supportive team. The role is focused on the assessment of the full range of applications for resource consent for activities in our large rural area, our city and townships.

We are looking for a planner who has experience with resource consent processes. The successful person will have good interpersonal skills, strong verbal and written communication skills, well organised, self-motivated and focused on completing task promptly and high professional standards.

If you have the experience we are looking for and want to make a difference in one of the world's great small cities, then we look forward to hearing from you.

If this sounds like you, please apply by 5pm on Monday 8 March 2021.

If short-listed, you will need to be available for an interview the following week.
